ABOUT ART OR AN ARTIST

This Is a Love Story by Jessica Soffer

As Jane faces the end of her life, her husband reflects on 50 years together—revisiting their courtship, careers, family challenges, and estranged son—while Central Park, a constant witness to their relationship, holds their memories in this tribute to love and loss.

Woman on Fire by Lisa Barr

Tasked with locating a painting called Woman on Fire stolen by the Nazis more than 75 years earlier, rising young journalist Jules Roth teams up with the artist's grandson to find it before a cunning gallerist, who gets everything she wants, does.

The Lost Van Gogh by Jonathan Santlofer

From the author of the much-praised The Last Mona Lisa comes this intricately woven historical thriller following Luke Perrone as he unearths several mysteries best left untouched as he gets closer to the truth.

The Final Act of Juliette Willoughby by Ellery Lloyd

Fifty years after runaway heiress artist Juliette Willoughby perished in an accidental studio fire in Paris, two art history students stumble across proof that the fire was no accident, threatening the foundation of Juliette's family and reviving rumors of the infamous curse that has haunted them for generations.

Big Lies in a Small Town by Diane Chamberlain

Imprisoned for a crime she did not commit, an artist is offered a chance to complete her remaining time by restoring a post office mural in a sleepy Southern town where another artist confronted violent prejudice decades earlier.

The Collector by Daniel Silva

In this electrifying thriller from #1 New York Times bestselling author Daniel Silva, Gabriel Allon undertakes a search for a stolen Vermeer masterpiece and uncovers a conspiracy that could bring the world to the brink of nuclear Armageddon.
